DR. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR

This famous remedy most happily meets the demand of the age for woman's peculiar and multiform afflictions. It is a remedy for WOMAN ONLY, and for ONE SPECIAL CLASS of her diseases. It is a specific for certain diseased conditions of the womb, and proposes to so control the Menstrual Function as to regulate all the derangements and irregularities

MONTHLY SICKNESS. Its proprietor claims for it no other medical property: and to doubt the fact that this medicine does positively possess such controlling and regulating powers is simply to discredit the voluntary testimony of thousands of living witnesses who are to-day exulting in their restoration to sound health and happiness. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR is strictly a vegetable compound, and is the product of medical science and practical experience directed towards the benefit of SUFFERING WOMAN! It is the studied prescription of a learned physician whose specialty was WOMAN, and whose fame became enviable and boundless because of his wonderful success in the treatment and cure of female complaints. THE REGULATOR is the GRANDEST REMEDY known, and richly deserves its name: WOMAN'S BEST FRIEND.

Because it controls a class of functions the various derangements of which cause more ill health than all other causes combined, and thus rescues her from a long train of afflictions which sorely embitter her life, and prematurely end her existence. Oh! what a multitude of living witnesses can testify to its charming effects.

WOMAN! take to your confidence this PRECIOUS BOON OF HEALTH! It will relieve you of nearly all the complaints pecu Mar to your sex! Rely upon it as your safe. i for health, happiness and long life. Price-Small size, 75 cents; Large size, $1.50. Sold by all Druggists.

On being asked what he wished ing out of our civil war she was at to have, he requested a glass of Panama, South America, and there white wine, which he drank in small ble woman. She was then aged and chest, and his only other garments were his trousers and shoes. His wrists were tied behind and his legs were loosely pinioned.

Thus he appeared at 4:40. when the great doors of the prison were thrown open. On his left and a little in front of him walked the chaplain. As Campi, escorted by two of M. Deibler's assistants, emerged, all heads were uncovered and a dead stillness prevailed, only broken by the dull roar of the crowd a quarter of a mile away. Campi was deathly pale but held himself erect, and even assumed a slightly swaggering attitude. In spite of his manacles. he walked freely and without assistance to within ten paces of the guillotine. There the Abbe Moreau turning to him said: "Embrace me, my friend." Campi replied, "If you wish it," and the priest kissed him on both cheeks.

At this moment Campi turned toward the crowd and smiled twice-a smile which was perfectly horrible to witness. Then he walked coolly to the upright plank, which reached to his chest. The executioner quickly placed his hand upon his shoulder and tipped him over the plank, swinging him down so as to bring his head under the knife. In another second the knife descended, the head was served from the body and fell into the can of saw dust placed there to receive it. One of the assistants rolled the trunk off the plank into the wicker coffer at the side, and taking the head by the ear flung it on to the corpse and the lid was closed. The box was at once carted away to the felons' cemetery at Ivry, escorted by four mounted gendarmes .- Paris

ABOUT BABIES.

Babies are natural born dentists. At a very early age they commence cutting teeth. A certain core for spring fever is to have a cross baby in the house. They will prevent everybody from becoming lazy. "Every man must sleep according to his temperament," says a prominent physician. That physician does not know much. Every man's sleep depends on the temperament of the baby, or the babies next An exchange says that a baby is the oasis of married life. There is nothing green about him, however, when he makes his father, in a ballet costume, walk up and down the room with him all night in the dead of winter. A Philadelphia paper says that the prevailing fashion for babies this season is light hair and blue eyes. Blonde babies, who have been neglected for the past few years because out of style, will now please step forward and take the "There is one thing about babies," said a recent traveler; "they never change. We have girls of the period, men of the world; but the baby 18 the same self-possessed, fearless, laughing, voracious little heathen in all ages and in all countries."
